Overview:
Posters created and presented by students, staff and faculty from the UA College of Nursing represent not only the presenter, but also the college and the university to local, regional, national and international audiences.

This poster process supports presenters in creating and printing high-quality posters properly sized for their conference/event and includes proofreading, branding review, design optimization and printing services. Printing is paid for by the College of Nursing unless the poster is supported by a grant (in which case, the grant account is used for payment). Jennifer Hulbert, in the Office of Nursing Research (jhulbert@email.arizona.edu), will assist you with the poster printing process. Once your design has been submitted through the Poster Jotform, she will reach out via email.

Deadlines:
- To ensure you receive your poster in time for your event or conference, please submit your final poster file via the Poster Jotform three weeks prior to your departure for your presentation.
- For WIN 2019: Please submit your posters no later than Friday, March 1. WIN is a high volume, time intensive production process for us, so submitting by this deadline will help ensure timely completion of your poster.

Please do not submit your poster via the Poster Jotform if you are still making changes or waiting for feedback/approval from a colleague or mentor. Only final/approved posters should be submitted.

Students:
- All students must use the UA College of Nursing poster template.
- Students must work with their faculty mentor to develop the content for their poster and complete the poster process. Students should not submit posters via the Poster Jotform until their faculty mentor has reviewed and approved their poster.
- All student posters must be printed by the College of Nursing.

Faculty/Staff:
- All faculty (on-campus and distance) should use the UA College of Nursing poster template.
- If your conference has size requirements that are not compatible with the standard College of Nursing template, please let Jennifer Hulbert (jhulbert@email.arizona.edu) know immediately so she can have the template resized to your specifications.

26 weeks prior to departure for the event, student receives poster template from Office of Nursing Research or faculty mentor.

Student develops content with mentor and enters into template. (See Tips & Tricks on next page)

24 weeks prior to departure for the event, student submits poster with approval of faculty mentor via the Poster Jotform

Faculty & Staff

26 weeks prior to departure for the event, presenter downloads poster template from CON Intranet.

Presenter enters content into poster template. (See Tips & Tricks on next page)

23 weeks prior to departure for the event, presenter submits final poster via the Poster Jotform

Office of Nursing Research proofreads, reviews for proper branding and optimizes design/layout.

Office of Nursing Research emails presenter final proof to review.

Presenter reviews poster carefully for any errors, which includes checking all text, captions, charts, images, etc.

If OK as is, presenter provides approval to send to print. If there are changes, presenter describes edits in an email back and the proofing process repeats.

Office of Nursing Research submits poster file for printing and emails presenter when ready for pick up.

Poster Tips & Tricks

1. Let the template do the work
   • Proper formatting has been pre-set for you in the template, including alignment, column width, font type, size and color. Preserving these settings will speed up the review process. When pasting text into the template, it is best to right click and select “Paste as Plain Text” to maintain the correct settings.

2. Don’t make it fit
   • If the content you want to include on your poster does not fit inside the template, you need to trim the text. Do not change the size of the columns or the font to “make it fit.”

3. White space is a good thing
   • Posters that have plenty of white space between and around sections of content are much easier to read and more pleasing to the eye.

4. Charts and graphs
   • If you are including charts and graphs, please do not use screen shots. When enlarged 200% on the printed poster, these files are blurry and unreadable.
     o If you are including a chart, it needs to be imported or built as a table in the poster template.
     o If you are including a graph, please use the original, high resolution graph file and include the data sheet as an attachment when you submit the poster.

5. Photos and images
   • All photos must be high resolution. If you are using a photo that is under 1 MB, it is probably not high resolution. Low resolution images may look OK on your computer screen, but when your poster is printed at 4 feet by 6 feet, the images will look grainy, blurry and unprofessional.
   • Do not include photos you don’t have permission to use.
     o If you are in need of high-resolution photos, please visit www.gettyimages.com and find the photos you would like to use. Then send an email to Jennifer Hulbert (jhulbert@email.arizona.edu) with the item numbers of the photos you want, with a description of the photo, and she will purchase them and send them to you.

6. Author line
   • Our standard formatting is to separate author names with semicolons. There should be commas after each last name and between credentials. Generally, titles are not included unless the author is a student (e.g. BSN Honors Student or PhD Candidate).
     Example: John Smith, PhD, RN; Jane Doe, DNP, AGACNP, RN
